JUAREZ FAVORITES SCORE

SUCCESS OF PUBLIC CHOICES FEATURES DE-CISION OF LADIES' DAY PROGRAM.

Manager Winn Announces for March 31 Initial Running of Fixture to Be Known as Juarez Cup at Distance of Two and One-quarter Miles.

El Paso, Tex., February 13.—Bright sunshine and a ladies' day program tended to bring out a large crowd at the Juarez track today. The public was rewarded by the winning of three favorites and the layers suffered heavily.

Lady Stalwart won the opening dash from the large band that was pitted against her without much effort. Royal Tea, well supported, kept bits backers in doubt until he was well straightened away in the stretch. Then he forged to the front and won in a romp. The other favorite to score was The Ballin's Daughter. She looked hopelessly out of it at the half-mile ground, but Gross called on her at the stretch turn and she found it easy to overtake the leaders.

The handicap, the chief attraction of the day, on her at the stretch turn and she found it easy to overtake the lenders.

The handicap, the chief attraction of the day, found Dr. Dougherly the winner. He received a snag ride, his rider saving ground by a close stretch turn, and when challenged by Goldfinn, in the final drive, outstayed her. Closer, the favorite, was injudiciously handled. Prior took him extremely wide for the entire journey.

Manager M. J. Winn announces that a race to be known as the Juarez Cup will be run on March 31. It will be for three-year-olds and upward, with $700 added and a silver cup to the winner. The distance will be two and one-quarter miles.

Jockeys Small and Buxton were suspended for ten days by the starter for disobedience at the post.

AN EXPATRIATED AMERICAN'S HORSES.

Louis Winans' Big Band of American-Breds in Joe Cannon's Charge at Newmarket.

Although now an Englishman by choice, Louis Wianns does not forget the land of his nativity and in his turf operations delights in pitting American-lived horses against the best of European breeding. For many years it was his pleasure to exploit the speed and beauty of the American trotler and with the speed and beauty of the American trotler and with the speed and beauty of the American trotler and with the speed and beauty of the American trotler and with the speed and beauty of the American trotler and with the speed and beauty of the American trotler and the speed and beauty of the American trotler and the speed and the speed and beauty of the American trotler and the speed a

HORSES THAT SCORED FOR MRS. J. W. FLYNN LAST YEAR

The horses campaigned in the name of Mrs. J. W. Flynn last year were not conspicuously consistent in their running, but aside from Almena all won races and, its numbers considered, the stable was really quite successful. Montealm proved himself a sprinter of more than average merit and was the principal money carbor of the stable. The Golden Butterfly coming next in that particular and winning nine races, generally at lower prices.

brown gelding, by Adam out of Roman Gold, is going through a course of hurdle practice.

"Mr. Winans has a couple of three-year-olds in Sir Colin and White Plains, and a third in partnership with Mr. Madden named Censor, that have yet to make a first appearance, having been too backward to train on the hard ground last year. Of these the first-mentioned is a whole chestnut, brother to Sir Martin. Although very nearly as tall, he is deeper of body and does not stand over as much daylight, and altogether is a thickset, powerful horse of quality, furnished with the best of -limbs, a good mover when extended, and perfectly mannered. White Plains is a dark bay colt with white heels by Hamburg out of Sans Peur, a level, well-grown sort of horse, good looking enough for anything; in fact, a colt of great promise, and likely to repay his owner for the patient policy observed with him. Both these colts are well engaged, among their liabilities belog the Two Thousand Guineas, Derby, and St. Leger, and White Plains is also in the Grand Prize of Paris. Whether they will come up to this high standard remains to be seen, but the possibility is distinctly there, and all continuing well with them they will doubtless be on view before the First Spring Meeting at Newmarket. Censor is a really good-looking chestnut coit by Meddler—Bonnie Blue II., of fair size, trim in make and shape, with well-placed shoulders, powerful back and loins, and altogether much to be admired. He was a later arrival than the is in the Two Thousand Glineas, but not the Derby.

"In the American team are seven promising two-versolds by Orden the sire of Sir Martin. All have the other two, and it may be added incidentally that he is in the Two Thousand Gaineas, but not the Derby.

"In the American team are seven promising two year-olds by Ogden, the sire of Sir Martin. All have done well since their arrival in this country, and are of good size, but nothing whatever is yet known of their merits. Duke of York, a bay son of Unsightly, is the smallest of the lot, but a long low coit of rare substance, standing over a lot of ground, and likely to race to a merry time. A beautiful and evenly balanced black colt is General McCielland, out of Frances Cielland, and another that should sooner or later earn distinction on the race course is Goiden Cloud, a son of Lucy Glitters—not the English mare of that name, which figured so prominently in Foxhall's Cambridgeshire. This is a very powerfully built bay colt with black points and a fine mover. Maine, out of By Ways, is a brown colt, a little mean, perhaps, behind the saddle, but in all other respects a fine horse, standing on the best of legs and feet. An attractive youngster is the whitelegged chestnut colt Denver, a big, strong colt that looks like making up into a grand horse when fully matured. He is out of a Hampton mare called Dorothy Hampton, who never ran, and I fancy originally belonged to Mr. Musker. A serviceable, thick-sec, wear-and-tear-looking bay colt out of Colline is Custer, but still more to my liking is Caprice's son, Brigham Young, a charming bay colt of lovely quality, whose only fault is perhaps a disproportionately small head for his big racing-like frame."

THE GREATNESS OF FRENCH RACING.

New York, February 13.—"You never hear of a crusade against racing in France," says Thomas Welch, who will train J. E. Widener's stable there again this year. "If there was an attempt to stop racing the French people would rise with a vigorous protest. The absence of opposition is due to the government's control of the sport and the parimutuel betting. Last fall the government distributed $1,500,000 among the small cities and towns for improvements, while another large sum was devoted to charity. The track owners are not allowed to keep more than five per cent, of the profits. They must spend the rest for purses, stakes and improvements.

"I have seen as many as 250,000 persons at Lorge."

They must spend the rest for purses, stakes and improvements.

"I have seen as many as 250,000 persons at Long-champs on a Sunday, with 5,000 matuel machines to take care of the betting. There is no bookmaking of any kind in France and the sport is kept remarkably clean. There are many great horses there and you'd be surprised to see the Americans who enjoy the sport. The trainers are nearly all English and American, while the best jockeys are Yankees. The tracks are splendid, but there isn't one that equals Belmont Park or Sheepshead Bay in up-to-date appointments.

"The largest grandstand in France seats not more than 5,000 spectators. The only hardship is in jumping from one track to another. They race one day at one track and then shift to some other place, but of course the big tracks are all in the vicinity of Paris. Mr. Vanderbilt has a superb stable over there and is setting the pace."

Other winners by him are Joyful, Humorist, Royal Jester, King's Jester, and Eblana. The Wag was sold as a yearling at Doneaster to Mr. King for Sto guineas, but owing to an infury he received when a two-year-old he could not be properly trained, though he ran on three occasions.

AN AUSTRALIAN ON ENGLISH RACING.

AN AUSTRALIAN ON ENGLISH RACING.

J. E. Brewer, who has spent some years training at Newmarket, but who relinquished his profession there at the end of last fial-racing season to return to Australia, has given some interesting impressions of English racing in the course of an interview for the "Adelaide Observer." He is uncertain whether he will return to England at a later date, but will in all probability remain in Australia for a year. In conjunction with R. Wootton, he has purchased an estate on the Lachian River, New South Wales, and he will spend a large part of his time looking after its interests, and will not train horses. He went on to Melbourne by the steamer.

Questioned regarding the form displayed by Australian riders in England, Brewer remarked that Frank Wootton was still top of the list. "The lad is gaining weight, however," he continued, "and I doubt whether he will be riding for very much longer—probably he will not last much more than a year. He was riding at 8st. 5 lb. when I left. One of the Huxleys has only just arrived in England, and has not yet had time to do anything. The other brother, however, is a smart boy, and in my opinion the best light-weight in England just now. Stanley Wootton has given up riding, and is coming out here to station work. Danny Maher, the American boy, is still doing as well as every, and is not likely to give the business best yet awhile.

The question arose as to whether Australian riders, as a whole, held their own with Englishmen, and Brewer was of the opinion that they did. "The Australian boy," he said, "gets twice, or perhaps three times, as much practice when he goes to England, and then he can hold his own. In the old country, too, there is far more chance of gaining experience owing to the larger number of

The returned Australian was emphatic in his condemnation of the general artitude of the Australian racing public, and denounced more particularly the habit of calling for each horse to be flogged home after a race has been won. "Horses are not butchered in England as they are out here," he considered. "When the race has been won the unplaced folly. The habit of unnecessarily forcing to a partification of the control of the
